SAND HILL CEMETERY

This is the oldest cemetery in Randolph Township attested to by the fact that the first white person buried in Randolph is here: Namely, Mary Ward, the first wife of Josiah Ward, died April 13, 1804 in her 36th year.

It is the southernmost section of what is now known as Hillside Cemetery and can be found on Hartville Road just a short distance north of Waterloo Road in Randolph Township. There is no map of this cemetery and graves listed here can be found by entering the southernmost drive off Hartville Road into Hillside Cemetery, and walking south a distance of about 80 feet. A line parallel to and 80 feet south of said southernmost drive is the northern boundary of Sand Hill Cemetery. You will see that this is roughly at the bottom of what was known as Sand Hill. There is no distinctive boundary and the graves to the north of this line are a part of Section 1 of Hillside Cemetery.

A listing was made in 1930 and many of the inscriptions which were legible then are no longer or the stones are missing. In these cases we have used the inscriptions from 1930, verified in 1990 and noted as such. Many of the stones are broken and lying on the ground. About in the middle and at the top of the hill, there is a very old maple tree that won't last much longer. There are some broken stones stacked around the trunk of this tree. It is impossible to tell where these stones were originally or identify all of them.

Row numbers have been arbitrarily assigned, starting at the west side and parallel to Hartville Road with Row # 1 and continuing to the east to Row # 27. You will see that these rows are not very straight and some rows are shorter than others, but our best efforts have been made to assist you in locating a particular grave.

This survey was made in the summer of 1990.

HILLSIDE CEMETERY

Located on Hartville Rd. just a short distance north of Waterloo Rd. in Randolph Township. It is adjacent to and just north of Old Sand Hill Cemetery and both of them are known now as Hillside Cemetery. No physical boundary exists between them and you can only tell the division by the age and condition of the stones. To aid you in locating specific graves, following is a description of the Row Number beginning location and their progression. Refer to the map on the next page.

Section 1 is divided into 10 double rows which are called Ranges. Range 1 is a single row and begins at the northwest corner of Section 1 and runs south to Old Sand Hill Cemetery. Moving easterly, each succeeding row is specified as Range 2 West, then Range 2 East, and so on.

Section 2 Row # 1 starts at the southwest corner of Section 2 and runs north to Section 3. There are 4 rows each lying consecutively east of Row # 1.

Section 3 Row # 1 starts at the northwest corner of Section 3 and runs south to Section 2. There are 4 rows each lying consecutively east of Row # 1.

Section 5 Row # 1 starts at the northwest corner of Section 5 and runs south to Section 4. There are 8 rows each lying consecutively east of Row # 1.

Section 6 Row # 1 starts at the southwest corner of Section 6 and runs north to Section 7. There are 4 rows each lying consecutively east of Row # 1.

Section 7 Row # 1 starts at the northwest corner of Section 7 and runs south to Section 6. There are 4 rows each lying consecutively east of Row # 1.

Section 8 Row # 1 starts at the southwest corner of Section 8 and runs north to Section E. There are 18 rows each lying consecutively east of Row # 1 and south of Sections E & F. (See Maps)

Section E Row # 1 starts at the southeast corner of Section E and runs north to the drive. There are 9 rows with the 9th. being the most westerly.

Section F Row # 1 starts at the southeast corner of Section F and runs north to the drive. There are 9 rows with the 9th. being the most westerly.

Section G Row # 1 starts at the southeast corner of this section and runs north to the north line of the cemetery. There are a total of 21 short rows with the 21st. being the most westerly and nearest to Hartville Road.

HILLSIDE CEMETERY WEST

This is a new cemetery which will provide expansion of the present township cemetery for years to come. It is located on the west side of Hartville Road and across from Hillside Cemetery. Only markers flush with the ground are allowed here.

The first burial was in 1986 in Lot 96D, Section B. Only Sections B & C have been alloted with numbers starting with 1 in the South East corners.
